Urgent request for Backpack Bash donations to equip El Paso County students in need

Colorado Springs, July 17, 2020 — There's only a week left to donate to help Pikes Peak United Way and COSILoveYou reach our goal of equipping 10,000 students across El Paso County with backpacks full of school supplies.

We are urgently requesting the community's help. Donations are down, and the need is so great. The drive ends July 24.

There are three easy ways to contribute:

- Drop off new donations at one of our donation sites across the Pikes Peak region, including 10 Walmart locations.
- Order items through our Backpack Bash drive registry on walmart.com at walmart.com/registry/registryforgood/19cd910f-d537-4f2e-8e70-d3211863dbb9/view, which will be delivered to Pikes Peak United Way.
- Make a financial donation at cosiloveyou.com/backpackbash.

All donated items must be new, and backpacks will be stuffed by volunteers before distributing them to children.

The most-needed items are high school and elementary school backpacks, in addition to spiral notebooks (college and wide ruled), 3-ring binders, pens (blue, black or red), pencils, plastic pocket folders and face masks.

Other items that can be donated: mechanical pencils, colored pencils, erasers, highlighters, rulers, protractors, loose leaf college ruled paper, 3x5 index cards, scientific or basic calculators, thumb drives, dry erase markers, facial tissue, hand sanitizer and sanitizing wipes.

The drop-off sites include:
