Pikes Peak United Way and Care and Share Announce New Food Distribution Location

Colorado Springs, Colo. — Pikes Peak United Way and Care and Share regularly offer food distribution events, the Free Mobile Food Pantry, to help alleviate hunger throughout our community. On Thursday, May 18, Pikes Peak United Way will move its food distribution location to Mitchell High School, 1205 Potter Dr., Colorado Springs, CO, 80909.

The public can still access recurring food distribution services every first and third Thursday of the month. Distribution begins at 11 a.m. and continues until supplies are depleted. Vehicles can enter through the West entrance on Potter Drive and will be directed to the appropriate spot to line up.

“We are very thankful to Mitchell High School for opening their campus to us,” said Elizabeth Quevedo, Pikes Peak United Way Director of Community Impact. “The new location helps us reach the community and assist families in need, as food prices continue to rise.”

In addition to the regular food distributions, community members can call 2-1-1 to receive additional information on food assistance.
