COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO. — Pikes Peak United Way is hosting a neighborhood clean-up in the Pikes Peak Park area in honor of Earth Day on Tuesday, April 23.

Five Organizations will meet and clean up the neighborhoods, streets and parks surrounding the Family Success Center. Bob Penkhus, Ent Credit Union, JE Dunn, Security Service Credit Union, and Harrison School District 2's Adult Education program will participate in the clean-up.

"We are so thankful for our volunteers who selflessly give their time and efforts to take care of our community. Their commitment to serving others is an inspiration," said Cindy Aubrey, President and CEO of Pikes Peak United Way.

The goal of the clean-up day is to remove trash from over 5 square miles in the Pikes Peak Park area and bring awareness to the work being done in the Family Success Center.

The point of contact for interviews is Elizabeth Quevedo, Senior Vice President of Community Impact at 423-333-4431.
